

Samtalen om Athen/The conversation about Athens

At The Norwegian Institute in Athens, 03.09.18-05.09.18. Arranged by Arr – journal of history of ideas
Language: First day a mix of English and Norwegian, second day all English, last day all Norwegian.

It is possible to attend parts or the whole of this seminar. Sign up by sending an email by the 30th of August to: ragni.indahl@gmail.com

Program

Monday 3rd of Sept (English and Norwegian)

1000 Coffee and presentation of the institute v/Jorunn Økland

1030 Welcome and introduction to the seminar by Arr – journal of history of ideas

1100 Tonje Sørensen, associate professor, University of Bergen: Neo-Classical Athens.

1145 Coffee break (15 min)

1200 Jorunn Økland, professor in Gender research in the humanities, University of Oslo, and director at the Norwegian Institute in Athens: : Dynamite and Old Virgins: The athenian Acropolis as Seismogram of Cultural Change and Reception History.

1300 Lunch

1400 Hege Dypedokk Johnsen, postdoctoral fellow at Stockholm University: Voldelig begjær: samtaler og sanksjoner i antikkens Athen

1500 Excursion 1: Athen: et veikryss ved Middelhavet, ved Jorunn Økland

Tuesday 4th of Sept (English)

1000 Halfdan Baadsvik, PhD candidate, University of Oslo: Death and Salvation in the Athens of Lucretius.

1045 Coffee break (15 min)

1100 Elias Kolovos, Associate Professor in Ottoman History, University of Crete: Ottoman Athens, the "city of philosophers" (medinetu'l-hukema).

1145 Coffee break (15 min)

1200 Maria Papanikolaou, artist and a PhD candidate at Athens School of Fine Arts: From New York Graffiti to Athens Street Art.

1300 Lunch

1530 Excursion 2: We visit two sites for graffiti in Athens: From New York Graffiti to Athens Street Art by Maria Papanikolaou. We meet by the Polytechnic School, address: Athina 106 84: By metro it takes appr 30 min, to walk takes appr. 40 min.

1900 Evening event/guest researcher talk by Christos Chrissopoulos, fictional author: The Parthenon bomber, history and identity at the Norwegian Institute in Athens. This event consists of a talk by Chrissopoulos, followed by a conversation between the author and Jorunn Økland. There will be a small reception at the institute after the event – we are all welcome to take part in this.

Wednesday 5th of Sept (Norwegian)

0900 Christine Amadou, associate professor, University of Oslo: Athen som dannelse og argument i Den unge Anacharsis' reise, en bestseller fra 1788.

0945 Coffee break (15 min)

1000 Han Lamers, associate professor, University of Oslo: Det forestilte Athen i tidligmoderne tid.

1045 Coffee break (15 min)

1100 Vemund Aarbakke, Assistant Professor, Aristotelian University of Thessaloniki: Den greske kirke mellom Konstantinopel og Athen.

1200 Hallvard Fossheim, professor in philosophy, University of Bergen: Filosofier og demokrater. Om Athens demokratiske institusjoner på 400- og 300-tallet fKr og den filosofiske kritikken av dem.

1300 Lunch

1430 Excursions 3: Neo classicism in Athens by Tonje Sørensen and Christine Amadou